PULASKI TENN FRIDAY MORNING, APRIL 19, 1867

The Magic Oil man was indicted this week by the grand jury and fined 85 and the cost for peddling without license.

Hon. EDMOND COOPER will address the people of Giles county at Pulaski on the 1st Saturday in May.

indicted for murder in the first degree, for the killing of Levi, a boy of color, upcounty a short time ago, was, on last Wednesday night, acquitted by the jury.

Convocation .- There will be a Convocation of Clergy of the Protestant Episcopal Church of Middle Tennessee, held in Pulaski next week, during which, frequent religious services may be expected in the hall used by the congregation of the Church of the Messish.

AGRICULTURAL AND MECHANICAL SOCIE-TY .- Those of our citizens who are interested in the matter are called upon in another column to meet at Pulaski on the 1st Monday in May for the purpose of re-organizing the Giles county Agricultural and rious to the interests of your paper, I Mechanical Society. It is designed to have a fare next fall, and it is earnestly hoped that there will be a full attendance at this preliminary meeting.

Public Speaking.

We are authorized to announce that on Saturday the 27th inst., Col. CAMERON, of Memphis, will speak to the people of Giles, in favor of Emenson Etheringe and Conservatism. Col. CAMERON Was a Federal officer during the war, and was promoted for gallantry on the field. He is a bold, fearless, eloquent speaker, and will electrify all who hear him. At the same time JOSEPH E. WILLIAMS, a discharged colored soldier, will address the people. Let the people, white and black, turn out to hear these orators. Let farmers release their laborers on that day, in order that they may hear these, the first, and perhaps the most important speeches of the canvass.

This reporter went to the big convention at Nashville the other day and acted as a "delecate to the conwenshun," and feels will please be patient. "wery delecate" from the effects of it yet. We saw nearly everybody there. In fact we didn't miss anbody from the city that day. We had the pleasure of shaking by proclamation of the Most Worthy Grand the hand numerous individuals in the pres- Sire of the Grand Lodge of the United ence of friends (recon they are friends of States of Independent Order of Odd Felours.) Judge Baxter, Neil Brown, Col. lows, the 26th day of April, 1867, is ap-Cameron, Hon. Jo. Williams, Ed. Cooper, pointed as a day to be observed throughout Elias Polk, Jim Brownlow, and a host of the United States as a day of thanksgivother distinguished gentlemen. It afford- ing and prayer; and that the Lodges do ed us great pleasure to notice that Giles assemble on that day, with their families, was represented by quite a number of the to render thanks to God for His protection first men of the county, (ourself among the of this institution. rest,) and that in their preliminary delibliberations they were perfectly "harmonious." Friend Jo. Williams, formerly a colored soldier in the U.S. army, created a little more sensation than any of the other distinguished orators, both at the capitol and on the street. He had an escort of about a hundred radical niggers from the capitol to his rooms, who seemed determined to do him violence, but who were deterred by the timely interposition of the mayor, backed by the police of the city. It is very wrong for radical niggers to treat conservative colored gentlemen in this way.

We were pleased to meet in attendance our old friends A. G. Russel, Esq. of the Shelbyville Union, and Capt. J. W. Newman, of the Lincoln News, both of which papers are ably conducted in defense of conservatism. Long may they wave.

Our stay in the city was rendered quite agreeable by the excellent accommodations at the City Hotel and the extreme urbanity of its gentlemanly managers, and our trip to and from the city was, of course, pleasant, as we placed ourself under the special charge of Pitts Brown, the cleverest conductor in the business.

In another place may be found a full report of the proceedings of the convention.

It is requested that all persons interested in the prosperity of the county, in the improvement of stock of all kinds, and in the advancement of the agricultural and mechanical interests of the community. are requested to meet at the Court House in the town of Pulaski, on the 1st Monday in May next, for the purpose of re-organizing the Giles County Agricultural and Mechanical Society, to elect an Executive Committee, with a view to making arrangements for an exhibition the coming Fall .-It is desired that a full attendance be had, and that all persons come and take an interest, as everybody should be interested where the profit originating from the organizatiou is general. Our sister counties are organizing, and the people of old Giles gnust not be behind. Come one, ceme all. MANY CITIZENS OF GILES.

April 17th, 1867. At the municipal election in Tuscumbia, ly occupied by the Ala., on the 1st, Major Sloss, formerly of the Confederate army, received four-fifths of the colored votes, for mayor, against the Radical candidate, who was a bureau agent. Major Sloss was elected.

Kuklux Klan.

On last Wednesday night, precisely at the hour of midnight, while we were sit- THURSDAY-CAREFULLY CORRECTED EVERY WELL. ting in our office conversing with several friends, we heard a tap at the door, and in Scare, N Orleans, 12@15 response to our invitation to come in, one of the strangest and most misterious looking specimens of humanity ever seen by mortil man or woman opened the door and solemnly entered our sanctum. It occurred to us at once that this must be the Grand Turk of the Kuklux Klan. We laid hold of the shooting stick and at once placed ourself in a position of defence. Our visitor appeared to be about nine feet high, with a most hideous face, and wrapped in Accurren. Beaborn M. Joiner, a youth | an elegant robe of black silk, which he kept closely folded about his person. He wore gloves the color of blood, and carried on the premises of Mr. Wm. Rose in this a magic wand in his hand with which he awed us into submission to any demand he might make. In a deep coarse voice he inquired if we were the editor. In a weak timid voice we said yes. We tried to say no, but a wave of his wand compelled us to tell the truth. (A wicked printer in the office suggests that we ought to have a wand waving over us all the time.) Whereupon the mysterious stranger placed his hand under his robe and handed us the communication given below, and without uttering another word bowed himself out.

Mr. EDITOR :- If everything coming from the much abused "Kuklux Klan" is not to offensive to "the public," or injuwould be obliged that you would insert this notice :

April 17th, 1867. "The public" seem not to comprehend or appreciate the high-toned objects and designs of the "Kuklux Klan," and are disposed to associate it with things vile and corrupt, mean and low. "The public" should not too hastily jump at conclusions at this particular time. Condemn not the object until you are sure it deserves condemnation. True, we hold our meetings in secret places. We have our reasons for that; and we have our secrets, signs, costumes, and mystic rights, and we entrust those to faithful breasts only. We have our reasons for that, and, doubtless, "the public' can appreciate the importance of the Klan pursuing such a course.

This is no joke either. This is cold, hard earnest. Time will fully develop the objects of the "Kuklux Klan." Until such a development takes place, "the public"
